MISSION STATEMENT

Recognizing that each person has an inherent worth, it is the mission of the Old Bridge Public Schools to empower each student to learn to achieve success and to become a confident, productive member of a pluralistic, global society prepared to face the challenges of the 21st Century.

List of Beliefs

We believe that:

- Learning is a lifelong process.
- All children can learn.
- Education is a shared responsibility among the schools, the child, the family and the community.
- All students are entitled to a safe, supportive learning environment.
- Self-esteem is necessary for successful learning.
- The development of curriculum is an on-going and cyclical process.
- The District should provide a dynamic curriculum that recognizes the various needs and learning styles of our students.
- An appreciation of the arts and humanities enhances the education of the whole child.
- All students should be taught to appreciate and respect the cultural differences in our society.
- All students are worthy of educational opportunity, respect, tolerance and fairness.
- Schools should prepare students to function successfully in society.
- All children should be encouraged to rise to their highest level of achievement.

AFFIRMATIVE ACTION STATEMENT

The Old Bridge Township Public Schools provides equal educational opportunities for all students, including equal access to all school facilities, programs, equipment, staff services, financial resources, courses, or activities, and other benefits regardless of race, color, creed, religion, sex, ancestry, national origin, social, economic or academic status or physical handicap.

PHILOSOPHY

Social Studies is the combination of multiple fields of study whose aim is to tell the story of humanity. Included are the studies of history, geography, political science, economics, and sociology. Each of these fields contributes a portion of the overall story of mankind. The National Council for the Social Studies considers “the primary purpose of Social Studies is to help young people make informed and reasoned decisions for the public good as citizens of a culturally diverse, democratic society in an interdependent world.” The ultimate goal is to create a base for our students on which they can become participatory members of our society.

In 7th grade the students of Old Bridge will study the formation of American society. Included in this is a concentration on the republican government created by the Founding Fathers, which will allow students to learn how our society works and how they can actively participate in it. There will also be focus on our past feats, both positive and negative. Since children are the future of the world it is important that they learn from past mistakes to avoid their reoccurrence. They will continue to be challenged with higher order thinking skills such as the relationship between cause and effect, and forming their own judgement. These skills will help our charges make informed decisions when they become responsible adults.

PREFACE

The 7th grade Social Studies program is designed to build a foundation in American history for our students. They will be immersed in American geography, history, economics, and sociology. In addition, they will be introduced to the foundation of American society found in such documents as the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States. Throughout the course of the academic year students will also be introduced to viewing history through multiple points of view. As the social studies are not exact sciences, there are multiple ways of viewing a single event. It is the hope that all of our students, regardless of their own personal backgrounds and stories, will become more informed so they can become more involved in our society.

This curriculum covers the discovery of the Americas by the European Explorers up to the conclusion of the American Civil War. It is separated into 8 units, and then further down into more specific content that is aligned with the New Jersey Student Learning Standards. In addition, there are recommended assessment and pedagogical strategies included, but teachers are encouraged to modify their instruction to meet the needs of their individual students.

This modification/addendum to the Grade 7 Social Studies Curriculum in July 2023 is mainly based on the following factors:

- Implementation of new McGraw-Hill Interactive Textbook
- Discontinued Subscription to NEWSELA
- Implementation of IXL for Social Studies (and Science), as well as BrainPop platforms.*

Link below is for the newly implemented Interactive Textbook, McGraw-Hill United States History; Voices & Perspectives Early Years. The extensive and varied resources are also highly recommended for each of the units of study in correlation with the additional recommended resources listed in the addendum above.

<https://my.mheducation.com/secure/teacher/urn:com.mheducation.openlearning:enterprise.identity.organization:prod.global:organization:3f258831-dacd-4680-87b5-a81b320ad95b/urn:com.mheducation.openlearning:enterprise.roster:prod.us-east-1:section:2b525cc0-2e0b-11ee-bd8d-dffe66de75dd/dashboard>

Some page numbers referred to in the original draft of the 7th Grade Social Studies Curriculum may still reflect the American Nation Text that is being replaced and should be eventually replaced with the correlated pages/resources in the newly implemented text, but access to that is still not fully implemented as of this date.

Further, any links to Newsela articles that have not already been removed, can often be used, but none of the related activities and assignments can be accessed. Many teachers have downloaded these as PDF files while our subscriptions were still intact and serve as valuable resources, which can still be shared with colleagues.

The Brain Pop and IXL Lessons/Links listed below are each very extensive and multi-faceted. Teachers should use their discretion to choose which lessons and parts thereof to use based on teaching style, time constraints, class level and all other factors that contribute to the variabilities in the science of teaching. Also, I did not remove the resources that were already included in the curriculum, as they are all very valid and applicable, and should also be evaluated for each teacher's preferences, and used as needed.

Instructional practices and experiences will reflect the needs of all students, including: special education students, English Language learners, students at risk of school failure, and gifted students. Modifications will be made to provide every student the opportunity for purposeful and meaningful learning experiences. Listed below are relevant modifications, accommodations, and teaching strategies to assist teachers in providing optimal instructional practices based on individual needs.

MODIFICATIONS

- Provide alternative text at student's academic level
- Use supplemental materials such as: Quizlet, cell phones, iPad, packets, calculator, flashcards, Kahoot, computers)
- Modify curriculum in collaboration with special education teacher
- Modify homework/classwork expectations
- Modify worksheets
- Extra credit options
- Hands-on projects as alternative to pencil and paper testing
- Allow for use of assistive technology
- Limit multiple choice options on tests
- Improve font/spatial organization of test (e.g. place questions/word banks/directions in visually designated fields, limit number of questions per page, vary font or size when task demand changes)
- Plan out projects with a clear first step to provide an entry point for getting started
- Provide a model for final outcome of long term projects
- Modify test format
- Modify test content
- Allow learner to provide responses to test/quizzes orally
- For open ended response, allow student to make corrections on test for additional credit
- Allow open book tests/open note tests
- Allow text to speech
- Reduce reading; offer alternatives such as: audible books
- Limit oral reading unless student volunteers
- Allow student to restate word problems in his or her own way
- Provide the student with pictures/objects to stimulate story development
- Modify writing requirements
- Reduce length of assignments
- Reduce the amount of expected work, and gradually increase it as the student completes assignments
- Rewrite material at an appropriate reading level
- Have learner create "test" questions concerning a passage or story that was read in order to assist with focus on key elements
- Allow student to write on tests
- Test for recognition rather than recall of facts
- Teach memory strategies (chunking, verbal rehearsal, visual imagery)

- Provide vocabulary word bank
- Take effort into consideration when grading
- Modify grade determined through collaboration with special education teacher
- Do not penalize for handwriting
- Should the learner experience difficulty copying from board or completing scantron sheets modifications should be used
- Allow for an alternative to computer based tests (e.g. paper copy, oral responses)
- Allow spelling errors
- List steps and procedures for multi-step problems and algorithms
- Weigh daily work higher than tests for students who struggle with test taking
- Provide transition words for writing tasks
- Limit the number of formulas to be memorized for assessments or provide formulas on tests
- Use graph paper to aid in aligning numbers/math problems
- Reduce essay questions/Reduce required response for essay questions (e.g. instead of 5-7 sentences they can answer in 4)
- Grade Pass/Fail
- Grade for completion not correctness
- Develop behavior contract in collaboration with special education teacher and CST
- Chart student progress of behavioral goal

ACCOMMODATIONS

- In-class resource support
- Allow for small group instruction
- Allow for use of calculator
- Allow use of technology to record homework
- Allow use of technology to complete work (e.g. computer, iPad, cell phone, internet, etc.)
- Provide large print textbook
- Allow use of manipulatives
- Allow use of spell check
- Provide step by step directions and check for understanding
- Provide preferential seating, where the student learns best
- Provide graphic organizers
- Alternate setting for testing
- Allow additional response time for response
- Allow extra time for projects
- Allow extra time for tests
- Allow extra time for quizzes
- Allow extra time for written work

- Allow extra time to complete labs
- Provide closed captioning on videos
- Read directions aloud
- Pace long term tasks
- Provide a checklist for long, detailed tasks
- Provide copy of notes
- Provide prior notice of tests
- Provide study guide for tests
- Provide study guide for quizzes
- Encourage note taking during reading
- Rephrase/Simplify test questions, directions, expectations etc.
- Have students highlight key words and directions on worksheets/agendas/assignments/tests
- Use post-it notes for organization/reminders/study materials
- Provide extra space on papers/Reduce the number of topics per page
- Provide homework folder
- Utilize color coded folders
- Assist learner with organization and gradually reduce assistance as the student becomes more independent
- Monitor student's agenda book
- Monitor organization of student's notebook
- Provide an extra set of books for home
- Allow learner to audit course/allow for inclusion opportunities
- Provide 1 to 1 reminders
- Provide opportunities for movement/activity change
- Collect baseline behavioral data
- Provide breaks between tasks
- Cue learner
- Provide daily feedback regarding learner behavior
- Use proximity and touch control to cue student

TEACHING STRATEGIES

- Relate what is learned to real life/Career ready goals
- Provide visual as a supplement
- State expectation clearly
- Present realistic expectations to the learner and teach to increase independent skills
- Analyze individual strengths and weaknesses (read students IEP)

- Teach skills where they will be used in natural settings (in natural situations and across all settings)
- Teach students to make predictions concerning stories and text
- Provide positive reinforcement
- Set or post classroom rules
- Provide 1 to 1 oral reminders
- Monitor learner progress
- Monitor/Check work in progress
- Utilize computer assisted instruction
- Utilize multimedia instruction (e.g. internet, audible.com, summary notes, supplementary films, books on tape, etc.)
- Provide concrete examples prior to teaching abstract concepts
- Provide due dates for assignments/projects etc.
- Post homework daily
- Post long term assignments to accessible areas (e.g. calendar/Portal/Teacher Website/remind.com, etc.)
- Always display goals and objectives at the start of the lesson
- Display key vocabulary
